This chapter discusses the right to education and human rights education in international human rights law. It covers access to education; the nature of education; academic freedom; the United Nations’ special rapporteur on the right to education; achieving universal education on human rights; teaching non-discrimination; and the United Nations Decade of Human Rights Education.

Access to the complete content on Law Trove requires a subscription or purchase. Public users are able to search the site and view the abstracts and keywords for each book and chapter without a subscription. Please subscribe or login to access full text content.
20. The right to education and human rights education

If you have purchased a print title that contains an access code, please see the information provided with the code or instructions printed within the title for information about how to register your code.

For questions on access or troubleshooting, please check our FAQs, and if you can't find the answer there, please contact us.