8. General tips on legal writing

This chapter offers tips on legal writing, not only describing why it is important to have a good writing style, why it is necessary to learn the rules of grammar and why every law student should work to develop a good writing style but also providing a series of succinct and practical tips on what constitutes good legal writing. The discussion also provides a brief description of the basic rules of legal citation sufficient for most student purposes. The chapter concludes with a series of self-tests and exercises to help the student overcome any problem areas. Writing tips are provided throughout the chapter.
8. General tips on legal writing

Please subscribe or login to access full text content.

If you have purchased a print title that contains an access code, please see the information provided with the code or instructions printed within the title for information about how to register your code.

For questions on access or troubleshooting, please check our FAQs, and if you can't find the answer there, please contact us.