14. Procedure for Financial Orders

This chapter discusses the procedure for financial orders, which includes how to make an application for financial orders, the first appointment, financial dispute resolution hearing, and the final hearing. It covers the drafting required during financial proceedings such as Form E, statement of issues, the chronology, and the questionnaire. It covers funding options available to clients seeking financial orders, the protection of assets forming part of proceedings for financial orders, the pre-action protocol, and the role of consent orders in proceedings for financial orders. It also explains costs orders in relation to financial proceedings, setting aside a financial order and appeals.
